

Will Bryant Archivist	Will is currently a Modern History Higher Degree Research Candidate at Macquarie University researching the depiction of the HIV/AIDS epidemic on Australian television. Just last year Will graduated from his Bachelor of Arts degree in Indigenous Studies & Modern History and is interested in working as well as researching in the gallery, library, museum & archive sector. In 2022, Will also undertook an internship with the Macquarie University History Museum where he was tasked with organising and researching a collection of German settler family artefacts to produce a chronological history of the family. Will is excited to be a part of the Glenaeon Rudolf Steiner School team while also keen to embrace the values of Steiner education within his archiving practice.
Emily Collett Eurythmist	Emily attended Glenaeon from Class Five and graduated Class 12 in 2007. She completed her Bachelor's Degree (Hons) in International Studies majoring in German Studies in 2012 from Macquarie University. After completing her CELTA English as a second language qualification, she worked as an English teacher for adults at Navitas in Sydney. In 2013 she decided to move to Stuttgart to complete the four-year Eurythmy training. After graduating in 2017 she worked full-time as a Eurythmist in the Stuttgart stage group and part-time as a teacher in a local Steiner school, teaching in German. There she taught Eurythmy and English, and also worked as an Assistant in Class 1. She moved back to Sydney at the beginning of 2023 and is excited to teach Eurythmy in English and complete her Masters of Teaching.
Lina Crawford Assistant Teacher Class 5	Lina Crawford is joining Glenaeon this year as the Class 5 Teacher's Assistant. She is an experienced primary school teacher and has previously worked at Darlinghurst Public School as a teacher and an Assistant Principal. Lina recently worked at Kamaroi Rudolf Steiner School implementing a reading program. She holds a Masters of Teaching from Sydney University and is commencing studies in Steiner Education this year. Prior to teaching, Lina also worked as a management consultant and holds a Bachelor of Commerce and Masters of Arts in International Studies.

Jenni Foley Learning Enrichment Teacher	Having pursued a career in foreign affairs and tourism marketing, Jenni completed a Post Graduate DipEd in LOTE and humanities at Queensland University. She was then seconded to write the National Curriculum for Japanese, not returning to a school classroom for a number of years until relocating to New Zealand and then to England, with her two children. In SE England, she enjoyed teaching in a range of roles, including as a 'general' primary classroom teacher, a specialist in English literature and language and in literacy intervention in prep. and secondary settings. Whilst studying a Masters in Educational Neuroscience, she became Head of Learning Support at Mayfield Girls School and then an educational neuroscience consultant at City Lit., London. Since returning to Australia during COVID, she joined the Learning Enhancement teaching team at Knox Grammar School. Jenni is very keen to learn as much as she can about the Steiner philosophy of education and to challenge her understanding of learning and teaching.
Tamara Louis Marketing Coordinator	Tamara has a Communications and Media Degree from The University of Notre Dame and began her career writing for women's magazines. After spending some time overseas, she has since worked in events, marketing and social media roles for both large and small Sydney businesses and start-ups. She is very keen to get to know the school's audiences and how the Glenaeon community engages with the many interesting aspects of Steiner education.

Naoko Murphy Playgroup Leader	Naoko studied Humanities in Tokyo before migrating to Australia, where she studied Art History, Fine Art and Education at universities in Melbourne. She worked for several bilingual primary schools over 5 years in Brisbane and Melbourne, working as a curriculum coordinator and an art specialist. Naoko has also run a community Japanese school called Aozora Shokudo for the last 8 years, at CERES in Melbourne. She trained at Melbourne Rudolf Steiner College in 2017-2018, before moving to Sydney and becoming a mother of 2 children.
Sabrina Durman Teacher's Assistant, Preschool	Sabrina has worked in the aviation industry for over 10 years in critical network operational roles in Sydney, regional NSW and the UK, and is currently working towards a career change to early childhood education. She has completed the Early Childhood Foundation Course with Sydney Rudolf Steiner College and will complete her Certificate III in Early Childhood Education and Care within the next few months. In her own words, Sabrina has described her reasons for making this career change: "Enriched from my studies in Anthroposophy and Early Childhood I am inspired and enthusiastic to make such a rewarding career change into Early Childhood. I am passionate about this field of work and look forward to working with the children, families and the community. I want to share in the wonder and beauty of the world with the children as they grow and develop at their natural pace in the caring, nurturing, secure and warm environment we create."
